PHOTOSENSITIVE SEIZURE WARNING

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these "photosensitive epileptic seizures" while watching video games.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms - children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures.

The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions:

- Do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Very nice gameplay and mechanics! Especially when you take into consideration that its still in ealy access! 10V10 would recommend.. I tried playing this game and was dissappointed because I could not get the controls to work. Like others, I couldnt even jump over the first wall. The people running the game did answer back and told me they were sorry and were working on it. I have since played it again and it has gotten so much better and I actually enjoyed it pretty much although I am still having some trouble with it with the jumping. It is much easier to move around and I do like the way they have it set up. I do like the challanges that they have created and I am only on the first set. I do see alot of possibilites coming out of this game and I look forward to getting the jumping right so that I can move on farther into the game..
